

Personal Care Providers

(Home Health)

Home health care professionals are faced with documentation challenges and unpredictable situations. Insurance carriers, company management and family members all have different perspectives in verifying the consistency of care and well being of the patient.

What Is Conex?

Conex is a revolutionary new client management system that facilitates collaboration and e-learning through a common set of tools. The system design enables professionals to connect better with their clients.

The program's applications empower professionals and equip them to deliver their programs on-line, bridging the gap between face to face engagements.

Professional & Medical Applications

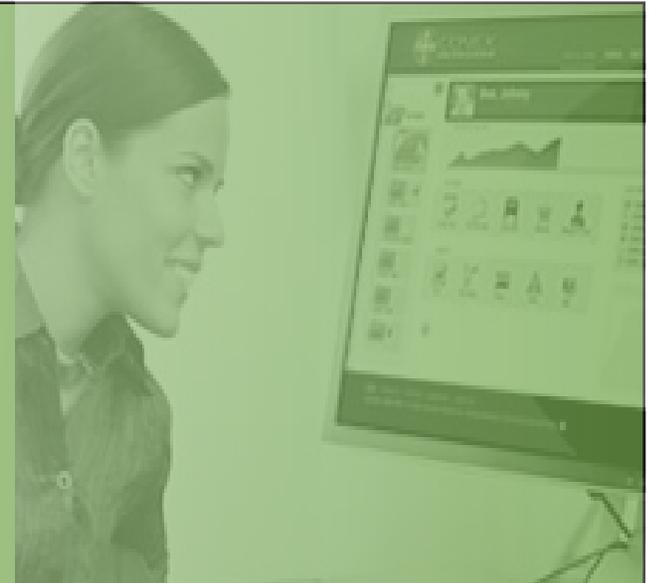

The Conex Software Suite is used to document each visit with real-time events for all stakeholders. Family members can view daily interviews and visually see and hear patient comments. Management has documented proof of treatment and results. The "Conex Mobile App." (iPhone) is used by each caregiver.

School Programs

(IEP's)

Schools are mandated by the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act for Individualized Education Programs. Children with special needs often require therapists from one or more disciplines. Current shortages and budget cuts often make for extended waiting lists and missed opportunities. This is especially true in rural areas where extended travel reduces therapy time.

The Conex Software Suite is used to administer remote sessions and the "Client App." assists parents with home study techniques. The "Collaboration App." is used to connect multiple professionals to improve cooperative treatment.

Wellness Programs

(Fitness & Nutrition)

Wellness programs are becoming more popular in the workplace. Healthy employees are proven to be more productive in their jobs, happier in their lives and lead to lower insurance costs.

The Conex Software Suite is used to deliver custom work-out plans, daily diet plans and educational materials. The goal and visual progress charts are used for personal motivation. Each employee participates on-line with 24-7 access. Questions are fielded by trainers, nutritionists and counselors in a private and secure setting. Overall progress is reported to the company.

Sports Programs (Camps)

Coaches are experiencing greater competition in recruiting young athletes into their camps and fitness programs. Documenting results is often the differentiator in determining the best camp to attend. Two-way communication between coaches and parents is also a factor in program selection.

Coaches use the "Conex Mobile App." to record snippets of competitions that best document the athlete's skills. Visual comparisons showing progress during the program are captured for 24/7 access by parents and the athlete. The relationship is extended through on-line communication and educational video for year-round coaching.

Therapy Programs

(SLP's)

Speech-Language Pathologists are faced with increasing caseloads. Their documentation responsibilities are becoming more stringent, while at the same time, Federal programs are forcing price compression.

The Conex Software Suite is used to document and deliver on-line lessons. The "Activity Based Health Records" include two way videos, emails, voice notes and written comments. The "Collaboration" feature is used to join other professionals for unified care and enhanced results.
