Conex Philosophy

What Is Conex?

Individualized in-person sessions are the best method to teach and mentor. Our technology simply captures the value and presents it for continued mutual benefit.

When finances or availability limit one's opportunity for personal sessions, the Conex Software Suite can fill the void by delivering profesional value anywhere and at anytime.

Collaboration requires coordination. The Conex Software Suite allows professionals the opportunity review and present opinions in a format that works within their busy schedules.

The Conex Med/Pro Software Suite is a Telemedicine and Distance Learning program that allows you more flexibility in allocating your time. The result is improved care options for the client while at the same time, equipping you with the tools and flexibility to excel as a professional. The system is designed to capture your value, customize your delivery and simplify your day.

Professional peers can be invited to participate in the treatment plan. They can view the client chart and post notes for the professional or for the client.

Professionals from other disciplines can be joined to facilitate a cooperative approach to achieving superior results.

Collaboration

Distance Learning and Tele-Medicine

Whether educational or therapeutic, Conex dramatically extends the reach of a professional's services to areas outside of the brick and mortar building.

On-Line Digital Records

The client chart is a digital record that contains your written notes, your audio notes and video clips.

Custom training materials can be cataloged for assignment as progress warrants.

Professionals can leverage their time by recording and assigning repetitive information. This leaves more time for high-value interaction.

Mobility

Meet with your client, organize your thoughts and update the chart from your iPhone. This can be audio, video or written notes. See improved accuracy while reducing your administrative costs.

This HIPAA compliant process allows for superior documentation for insurance processing and client billing. Video clips and audio notes also provide more scientific-based evidence for progress validation and client motivation.
